

Reliability and availability of corporate e-mail systems is becoming increasingly important to small and medium-sized businesses, but often budgetary constraints do not allow these smaller organisations to leverage technology in the same way as their larger counterparts - Until now!

Designed as a highly available e-mail solution, NexMail offers all of the Microsoft Exchange features that your business expects or requires, but the technology is housed in our own dedicated data centre. NexMail is built upon a resilient infrastructure in our own datacentre ensuring high availability and reliability for your mail service.

Features

NexMail provides all of the standard Microsoft Exchange Outlook features which include:

- Outlook 2003 Client License
- Shared Calendar Access
- Shared Contacts
- Public Folders
- Outlook Web Access

Additional features that NexMail offers your business include:

- Virus & Spam Protection
- Daily Mailbox Backup
- Blackberry and Windows Mobile support

Availability - NexMail remains available even if your office does not. In the event of a disaster or your office been unavailable for whatever reason, there is little benefit in holding a backup tape! NexMail is hosted in a secure location ensuring that your mail system remains available 24/7/365.

Accessibility - Not only is NexMail a highly available solution, it also provides extensive access options with Outlook 2003 and Outlook Web Access being included by default in the service. This allows your staff to be much more productive by allowing them to access not only their mail but all of the other features such as Calendar and Contacts wherever they are.

Mobility - With the option to extend the NexMail service with Blackberry support and/or Windows Mobile support, your staff can take full advantage of these technologies without the need to invest in additional hardware or software.

Highlights of NexMail

Productivity - Because NexMail is a hosted solution we can completely remove the need for you to manage and maintain an in-house e-mail solution allowing your organisation to focus on IT Strategy and Projects and their impact on your Business, rather than concern yourself over the availability and maintenance of your e-mail system. NexMail increases the productivity of your staff, by providing multiple access options including:

- Outlook 2003 via HTTPS (home-based or office staff)
- Outlook Web Access (via laptop or Internet cafe)
- Blackberry via our NexBerry service
- Windows Mobile for Windows-based mobile devices

Zero Administration - Included in the monthly cost of NexMail is the administration of the system including the addition, deletion and modification of mailboxes and server-side distribution lists. When considering an outsourced solution, many organisations omit the intangible costs associated with the maintenance of a mail system.

Cost Saving - Not only does NexMail remove the Capital expenditure associated with an in-house e-mail solution it also significantly reduces the ongoing Operational expense of an in-house solution such as; software updates, hotfixes, administration and backup. All of which is included in the cost with NexMail.

Security - NexMail ensures that not only is access to the system secure using Microsoft standard technologies such as HTTPS, we also ensure that your mail is free from Viruses and Spam by scanning all incoming and outgoing mail.

Furthermore, all mail is backed up daily and we even have an option for long term archiving if required.

The Bottom Line:

The decision to outsource your e-mail infrastructure is becoming more and more compelling with the hosted option now providing all of the features and benefits of your in-house solution at a fraction of the cost! With the development and enhancement of Internet Connectivity the historical issue of bandwidth is no longer a restraint to the hosted solution of NexMail

NexMail Summary:

NexMail is available to provide your company with feature-rich email messaging, without losing bandwidth, disk space and above all, your valuable time to deal with virus attacks and other threats to your IT environment. We will make your life easier!

NexMail is ideal for organisations looking to reduce the ongoing costs of I.T. support. NexMail provides all of the features of a local Exchange installation but on dedicated and highly resilient hardware in our dedicated Data Centre.

The NexMail platform allows for safe, secure and up to date email messaging that will be SPAM and virus free. All incoming and outgoing mail is checked. For instance, in February 2006 our service processed 1,744,403 emails, with a 60.88 % SPAM and 2.75% Virus content, and an overall SPAM accuracy of 99.53 %!

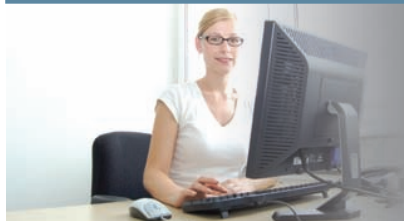

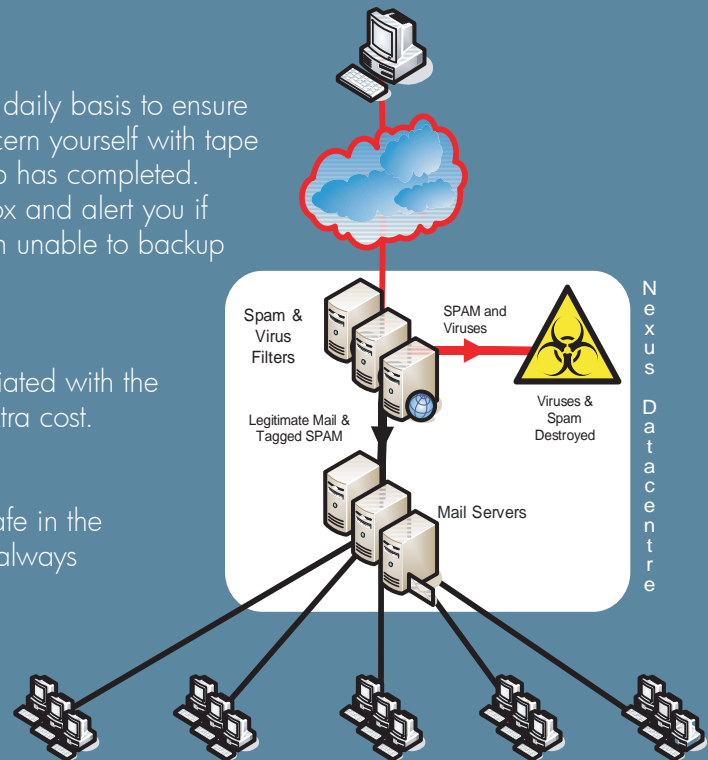

If your Company must retain all electronic records, including email involved in auditing procedures because of company policy or any future UK/EU regulations, Email Archiving can be provided as part of our NexMail Service.

For those organisations currently using or investigating technologies such as Blackberry and Windows Mobile, NexMail fully supports these technologies as an extension to the default service.

All e-mail is backed up on a daily basis to ensure that you do not need to concern yourself with tape changing or that your backup has completed. We will backup each mailbox and alert you if for any reason we have been unable to backup your data.

All administrative tasks associated with the service are included at no extra cost.

With NexMail you will be safe in the knowledge that your mail is always available wherever you are!
