PRODUCT LAUNCH

Nexus Management plc (LSE: NXS) a provider of specialist IT Managed Services is pleased to announce the launch of the Nexus Management Voice Recorder (NexVR), a software product targeting the high growth market of compliance and best practice for call centres and many other businesses.

Designed and engineered using Nexus in house application developers and with detailed consultation with a major call center, the product is available in two formats, as an appliance located on the clients server, or a remote service delivered to the client via PSTN or VoIP. The product records incoming calls and stores them for easy retrieval whilst constantly monitoring itself for faults or problems. Capable of recording up to 64 calls concurrently, NexVR is able to keep digital quality recordings for many years due to its superior compression capabilities. The product delivers a simple to use system and when delivered as an appliance can be sized dependant on the businesses needs.

Roger Richardson, CEO of Nexus, commented, "The small business market is becoming increasingly burdened with compliance issues and our customers are struggling to find affordable, reliable solutions to these problems. NexVR has been designed specifically with the small to medium sized business in mind offering them a high end product at a flexible price point. The call recording market offers an exciting opportunity for Nexus and we believe our product to be perfectly positioned to exploit this potential as we leverage our existing client base whilst seeking new prospects."
